Tulsi, a type of basil plant known for thousands of years in India, forms one of the important cornerstones of Ayurvedic medicine. Also known as "Holy Basil", this sacred Indian herb is rich in antioxidants, and has multiple adaptogenic properties, thought to protect the body from the harms of physical and mental stress.* Tulsi has an intense minty, buttery flavor, delicious both hot and iced, but contains no caffeine. These 3 new flavors come packaged in 8-count and 25-count boxes, an individual single serving display, boxed loose tea and in bulk by the pound.

As part of our sustainable mission, Davidson's will continue to donate 10% of all Tulsi proceeds to its "Aasha (Hope) Fund", designed to improve lives of countless small farmers who grow the herb. The project helps transform abandoned farm lands, where Tulsi is planted, through sustainable, organic agricultural practices. Additionally, all of the teas are Fair Trade Certified by FairTrade USA. Davidson's Tulsi is grown in India in its family-owned, certified-organic, fair trade, Putharjhora tea gardens in East India.

Davidson's Organic Teas is certified USDA Organic and free of pesticides, dairy, GMOs, and other non-permitted ingredients. Direct from family-owned gardens in India, through the Fair Trade-certified line to Nevada, Davidson's offers a wide variety of blends and traditional flavors in tea bags, loose leaf and iced tea formats. Davidson's is proud to share the benefits of drinking organic teas from its own tea gardens exclusively with the United States.
